About the Training

Level 1: The Art of Facilitation. This evidence-based, trauma-focused training is our foundational course, packed full of skills and ideas that can be immediately implemented in perpetrator intervention and victim advocacy. Participants will learn the River of Cruelty model, leading by example, the power of self-disclosure, increasing introspection, the process of healing from trauma and much more!

Level 2: The Affective Component. This training builds upon the skills learned in The Art of Facilitation. Participants learn how to manage emotional spaces and witness the transformational growth that can come from this approach. This includes the enlightened witness, shadow process, the emotional funnel, working with adverse feelings, addressing shame and defense systems, and more!
